

Local Government Reorganisation (LGR)

Greater Essex

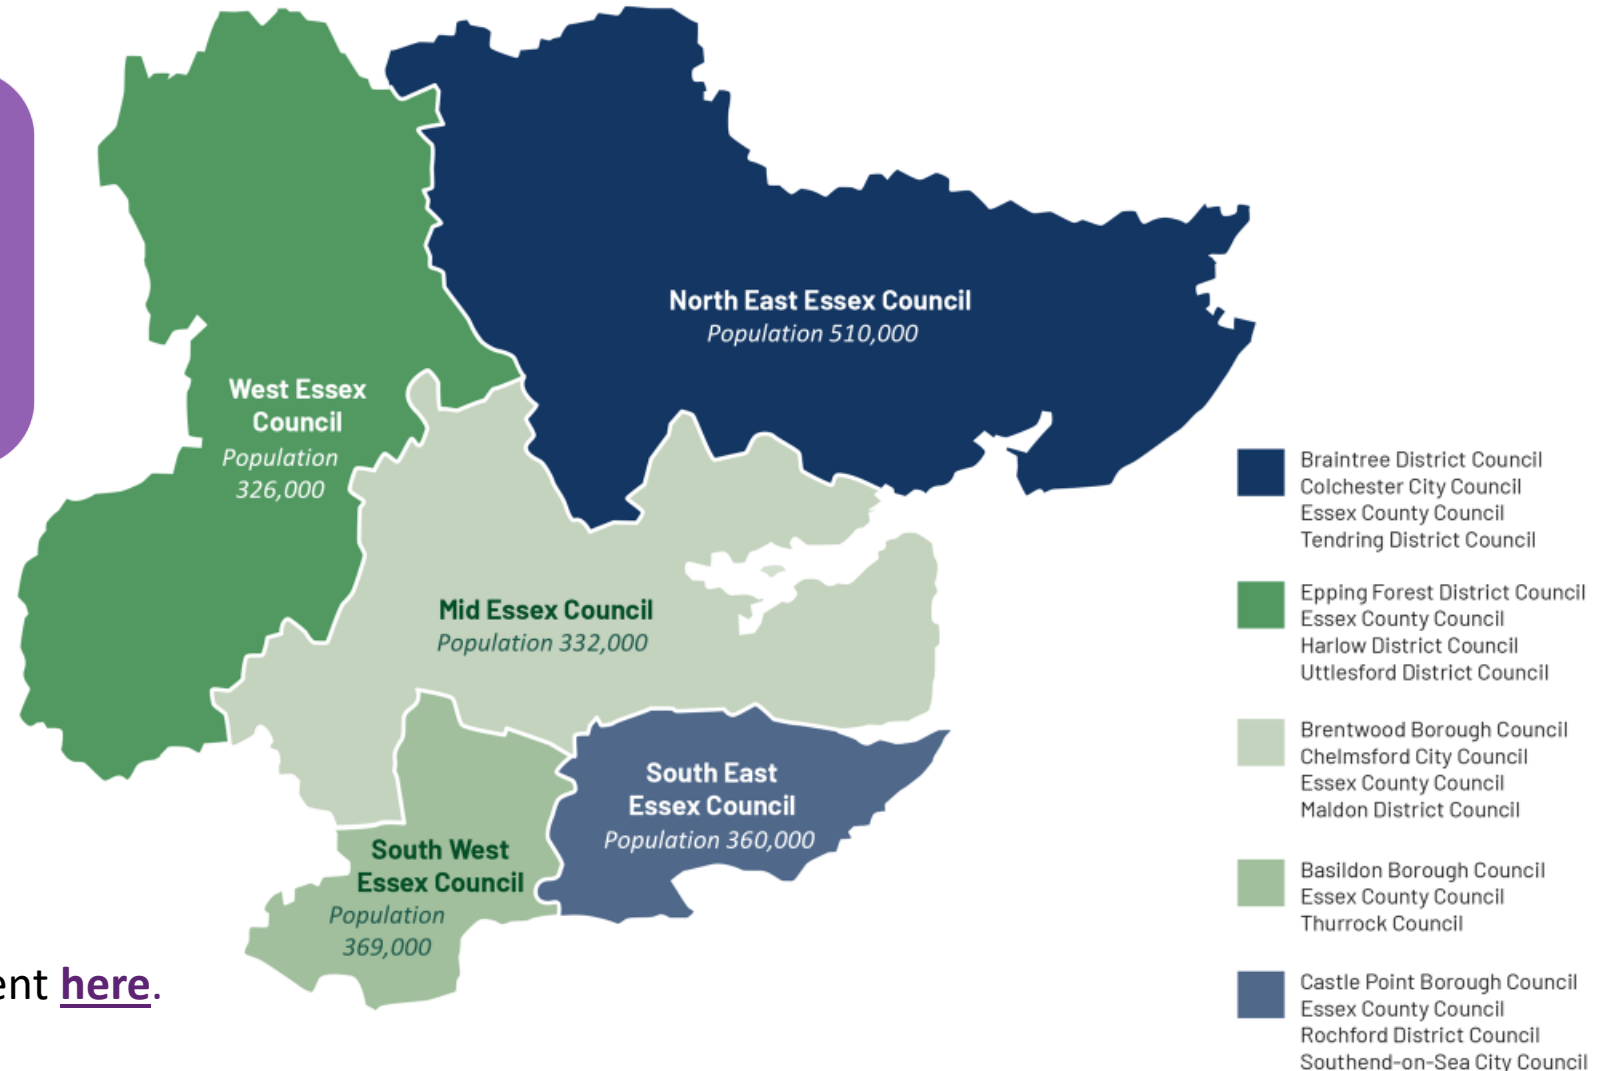

April 2026

Confirmation of the 'minded-to' decision

'Minded to' is a way of referring to the decision by the Government on the new council configuration, which will later be confirmed in law.

The government has announced it is minded to approve the 5 unitary authority option for the future structure of local government in Greater Essex.

Next steps

- This summer/autumn, a Structural Changes Order (SCO) will be laid in Parliament. The order will formally establish the new unitary councils and set the legal basis for the transition, enabling the move from existing authorities to the new ones.
- Between now and vesting day in Spring 2028 and, alongside partners, we will also develop a comprehensive implementation plan.

What does this mean for care providers?

The new unitary authorities are not expected to come into effect until 1st April 2028. Until then, we will continue to deliver the vital services our residents rely on.

For now:

- There will be no immediate changes affecting care providers.
- The Government is expected to set out further details to Greater Essex councils in the next few months about how the changes will be prepared for and implemented.
- We will continue working closely with all councils across Greater Essex as we plan the next steps.

We will continue to work with Essex Care Association on how we engage with care providers and share communications about the changes happening over the next couple of years.
